Land Reforms Policy

1586. SHRI N.R. DASARI:
SHRI J. CHITHARANJAN:

Will the Minister of RURAL DEVELOPMENT be pleased to state:

(a) the policy of Government with regard to the Land Reforms and implementation of Land Ceiling Laws;

(b) the details of the surplus land identified, taken possession and distributed to the landless as on 31st December, 2000 and 2001, State-wise;

(c) whether it is a fact that the progress of the distribution of surplus land is very slow; and

(d) if so, the reasons therefor?

THE MINISTER OF STATE FOR RURAL DEVELOPMENT (SHRI ANNASAHEB M.K. PATIL): (a) to (d) Land Reforms is under the exclusive legislative and administrative jurisdiction of the States as provided under Entry No. 18 of List II (State List) of the Seventh Schedule to the Constitution of India. The Central Government is playing only an advisory and co-ordinating role in this field. The major objectives of Land Reforms consist of re-ordering agrarian relations to achieve an egalitarian social structure, elimination of exploitation in land relations, realizing the age-old goal of "land to actual tiller", enlarging the land base of rural poor, increasing agricultural production and diversification of agricultural economy etc.

As per information received from the States, the State-wise details of the surplus land identified (area declared surplus), taken possession and distributed to the landless poor (since inception) as on 31st March, 2000 and 31st March, 2001 are given in Statement I and II (See below). The figures are compiled on half-yearly basis. Therefore, state-wise details as on 31st December, 2000 and 2001 are not available with the Ministry.

In recent years, there has been a slow progress in distribution of ceiling surplus land. This is mainly because of the facts that a substantial area of the declared ceiling surplus land is involved in litigation, unfit for cultivation, reserved for public purposes and not distributed for miscellaneous reasons.
